SYNDICATE YEARLINGS

In the summer of 1928, in those dear, unregenerate days, when Wall Street stenographers were making a thousand or two every week (on margin) and the restraining shadow of the S.E.C. had never fallen across the floor of the Stock Exchange, a yearling colt by Whisk Broom II—Payment was led into the sales ring at Saratoga. The bidding which followed left the spectators—and the participants—breathless. When the auctioneer's gavel finally banged down on the block the price was $75,000, the purchaser the Eastland Farms Syndicate.

It is remarkable that 26 years had to go by until this figure was exceeded for a yearling sold at public auction in this country, remarkable in view of what happened to the value of the dollar and in view of the enormous increase in earning opportunities for race horses during the succeeding years. July 27th, 1954 was the night, a chestnut colt by *Nasrullah—Lurline B. consigned by Walnut Springs Farm was the horse, $86,000 was the price. The buyer again was a syndicate, headed by a retired oil man, F. J. Adams of Fort Worth, Texas. Furthermore another high priced yearling was secured by another syndicate, headed by the well-known breeder and owner Arnold Hanger—a chestnut colt by Citation—Boat (dam of five stakes winners) consigned by Harry B. Scott Jr. which brought $50,000.

Syndication has become a favored method for the purchase and management of stallions in this and other countries and many of our top sires, such as Roman, *Nasrullah, *Royal Charger and *Alibhai are held in this type of ownership. It is a relatively painless method of collecting the purchase price, it ensures a full book and a wide variety of good mares, it usually makes for a central location and good management. In spite of the examples cited above, however, the syndication of yearlings up to now has been comparatively rare. A yearling, after all, has his whole racing life before him. Divided ownership at the stud presents no particular problem, but divided ownership on the track can, and often does, cause serious disagreement.

It seems quite possible that syndication may become a much greater factor in the future yearling market, however. The Thoroughbred breeding industry is in an extraordinarily prosperous condition at the present time. The total of purses distributed has become so large that if divided evenly between all the horses in training in this country it would amount to about $4,200 apiece. The prices for yearlings and broodmares at the recent Keeneland sales have been little short of astronomical.

Obviously a considerable proportion of the amounts spent for top yearling colts is based on their future value in the stud. Since syndication has proved to be so satisfactory a method for buying and managing stallions, it is only logical that it should be extended to cover potential stallions, particularly when they cost a small fortune to begin with. We quite expect to see several groups of buyers occupying the benches under the elms when the most desirable youngsters are led out for morning inspection at Saratoga.

Letters To The Editor

Standard Needed

Dear Sir:

In my recently printed "Letter to the Editor" I mentioned the need of a standard of teaching headed by a qualified group before which all who instruct must prove they know and be issued a certificate or license to teach signed by this group. I thank you for the editor's note regarding the rating centers already in existence. I do know of them but perhaps I didn't word my letter quite plainly enough. What I really meant was no instructions in riding should be allowed anywhere without a signed certificate. This to eliminate the type of instructions given at the renting stables "just to get you on a horse and get you goin'"—where you keep up or else.

We have an exclusive school for equitation and training with two instructors and give private lessons only. As there is no rating center in this state how can we get ourselves qualified? One instructor has a European Certificate, the other nothing. Where have these other rating centers received their qualifications? Perhaps, each state should have one and issue for that state alone. When an instructor moves to another state he should have to establish himself with the rating centers there.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Allen K. Elden

Correct Owner

Dear Sir:

I would like to make the following correction in the July 23 issue of The Chronicle.

In the Kent-Queen Anne Horse Show, Ally Broom and Pegamie are both owned by Carol Kitchell, not Dorothy Pinch.

The Merchants' and Citizens' Handicap, 52nd running 1 3/16 miles, 3-year-olds and up (July 31). With the exception of the American Legion Handicap, the Merchants' and Citizens' is probably the widest in scope of all races named in honor of somebody or some thing. It belongs to all the people of Saratoga as emphasized by the apostrophes; but the last seven renewals have been at Jamaica, and during the war it was staged at Belmont.

Handicapper Frank E. Kilroe, did a neat bit of figure work for the 52nd running. His weightings put the horses in a tight bunch at the eighth pole, with less than two lengths separating the noses of the first and last.

Mandingo left the gate first, but, with the moderate pace, no horse ever was far behind. Capeador, Bassanio, Social Outcast and Impulsivo followed the leader and maintained that order until about the quarter pole. Then Capeador went ahead, and Impulsivo started to move. He passed Bassanio and Social Outcast.

With a furlong to go the field came together and it was anybody's race; but Capeador still was on top. Down to the wire, Social Outcast came on well and got to within a neck of the winner, but couldn't cut down that last yard. Though Capeador drifted out while tiring, Nick Shuk held him together for the win.

Mandingo finished third, half a length behind Social Outcast and 1 1/2 lengths before Bassanio. Impulsivo dropped back to last in the five-horse field.

Capeador, bred and owned by the Brookmeade Stable, won the Thomas J. Healy, Tropical Park and A. B. Letellier Handicaps earlier in the year. The $18,600 from the M & C, gives him $100,600 for the year. The gelded four-year-old has raced 10 times, won 4 races, been second in 2 and third in 3. He is by Bull Lea, out of Bonnet Ann, by Blue Larkspur.

In 1953, he collected $14,375 from 4 wins, 4 seconds and 2 thirds in 14 starts.

For those who just came in, Preston Burch is the Brookmeade trainer.

The Adirondack, 45th running, 5 1/2 furlongs, 2-year-old fillies (July 28). With most of the horses moved up to Saratoga, only five two-year-old fillies were on hand for the Adirondack. Sorceress, the only one with a stakes victory to her credit, was made the favorite, but the punters liked Hidden Ship almost as well.

Hidden Ship raced into the lead early and held it to the end, beating the favorite by two lengths. The outcome might have been different, had not Sorceress seen fit to introduce a few terpsichorean moves into the running. She began by jumping a shadow, and then threw in some tango steps during the dash to the wire. Still, she was good enough to hold second place by four lengths over Bless Pat. Sweet Music was

Monmouth Park

The Choice Stakes, 17th running, 1½ miles, 3-year-olds (July 31). The task of sorting the best eastern three-year-old of 1954 is not being simplified. Experienced horse-players have known for decades that second-season runners are most difficult to handicap; but we've never had it so tough.

After his spectacular triumph in the Classic, at Arlington Park on July 17, Joseph Gavegnano's Errard King appeared to be little short of a lead-pipe lock for the Choice Stakes. With Night Baker to help out the entry was backed down to 6 to 5.

In the first six furlongs, Errard King operated about the way he did in the Chicago race. He put away Artismo; Pelouse became discouraged and backed up and so did Black Metal. At the eighth pole the favorite still was a length in front, but Punkin Vine was coming fast. Jockey K. Korte had held the latter colt a bit off the pace, and made his bid as Errard King began to show signs of wear.

There was a grim stretch battle and Korte drove his mount to the wire a head on top. Lychnus, which had been close up all the way, was third, a length back, and Night Baker, the other member of the Gavegnano entry took fourth money.

It was the first stakes win for Punkin Vine. The $22,150 collected by Owner-trainer G. S. Howell brought the colt's total for the season to $30,725. He shows 3 wins, a second and a third in 10 starts.

In 1953, the son of Vineland, from Catalonia, by Catalan, raced 14 times and earned $6755 as a result of 2 wins, 2 seconds and 3 thirds. He was bred by Mrs. W. E. Snell. Howell brought the colt for $780 last season.

The Miss Woodford, 3rd running, 6 furlongs, 3-year-old fillies (July 28). Darby Dan Farm's Clear Dawn ran her best race in the Miss Woodford and won over Parlo by 2½ lengths. Evening Out was a length and a half farther back and beat June Fete a head.

Parlo was the only member of the field to have won a race worth $15,000 or more this year so she carried scale weight of 121 pounds. Evening Out got in under 118 pounds and Clear Dawn and June Fete each carried 112.

Crisset and Incidentally fought for the lead at the beginning, with Lady Bouncer and Clear Dawn close at hand. Evening Out and Parlo followed.

Crisset began dropping back after about three-eighths of a mile, but Incidentally still held the lead coming around the bend.

Clear Dawn took over straightening out and Parlo came along with her. Evening Out had dropped back to eighth when the pace became too fast, but she was passing horses in the stretch run.

The $17,350 award to winner brought Clear Dawn's 1954 earnings to $24,025. The *Heliopolis—Darby Dunedin (by *Blenheim II) filly has won 2 of her 4 races and been second twice. Last year she won 4, was second in 1 and third in 4 of 14. She earned $33,500.

Clear Dawn was bred by Mr. J. W. Galbreath who operates the Darby Dan Farm Stable. J. Long trains.

H. B. Wilson, the filly's regular rider, was in the saddle for the Miss Woodford.

Arlington Park

Arlington Handicap, 25th running, 1 3/16 miles on turf, 3-year-olds and up (July 31). If there is anyone who buys horses better than Harry Trotsek and his patrons, Mr. and Mrs. Allie Reuben of Hasty House Farm, he should stand forth and be recognized. Some of the runners purchased might not be as good as Harry thought they would be, but most of them are better than anyone else thought they were.

Stan, winner of the Arlington Handicap, is an example. All year Trotsek has been trying to make him win a race and here he comes taking one worth $99,050, the most valuable one on grass.

Evidently, there was a misunderstanding among the jockeys as to the distance of the race. With the going "soft", Heckmann sent Landlocked off at quarter-horse speed, and Permane on Warless, and Erb on Sir Mango went right along with him. Brookmeade's County Clare and Alfred Vanderbilt's Find chased the leaders. (There must be some jocks who don't have stopwatches in their heads.)

A couple of seconds back, Stan was galloping along unhurriedly, under Eldon Nelson.

As the enthusiasm of the front runners began to wane, Stan came on. He was running sixth at the stretch call, but he was less than a length back of the front one. (Handicapper Pat Farrell also knows how to bunch up a field). Coming through the pack, Stan got the lead and drew away to win by a neck over Brush Burn. Sir Mango held on remarkably well, considering the early fireworks, to get third money. He was 3½ lengths back of Brush Burn and 1½ ahead of Abbe Sting.

Stan's first win in 6 1954 starts (he has been third twice) brings his season's money total to $103,300.

The son of Kingsway—Final Sweep, by Brumeux, collected $29,050 last year. He won 2, including the Grassland Handicap, was second once and third once.

The four-year-old gelding was bred by J. Sharp in England.

Arlington Matron Handicap, 21st running, 1 mile, 3-year-olds and up, fillies and mares (July 28). After trailing in the early stages, Mrs. C. Silver's Lavender Hill came on to win the Matron Handicap easily as the speed runners burned up one another.

Jenjay, Good Call, Rica Rosie and Arab Actress made most of the race while the destined money winners loitered along in ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth positions. Vixen Fixit and Rosemary B. rushed into prominence after about three-quarters of a mile, but Lavender Hill went on past and drew out to win by 3½ lengths. Vixen Fixit, in second place, was three lengths before Rosemary B., which lasted by a neck to save third place from Intencion.

With a value to winner of $20,880, the race gave Lavender Hill season's earnings of $54,765. She has raced 14 times and has been 3 times in each mutuels payoff position.

Of 15 races in '53, she won 2 and was third in 3, earning $7350. The chestnut mare is five years old and is by *Flushing II—Maupeace, by Peace Chance. Mr. Bayard Tuckerman, Jr., bred her.

T. W. Kelley trains for Mrs. Silvers. Conn McCreary has ridden Lavender Hill in her recent races.

Monmouth Hurdle Racing

Battle for Lion's Share of Midsummer Hurdle Handicap Provides Thrilling Contest

Donald Frank Charles

Offering a hurdle race a day, excepting Saturday, Monmouth Park's hurdle season was climaxed on Friday, July 30, with the 4th running of the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap. Although only 7 hurdlers accepted the issue, the battle for the lion's share of the \$11,025 gross value proved the most thrilling of the 3 week session with a new 1 $\frac{3}{4}$  miles hurdle mark recorded.

Assisted by the "iceman tactics" of F. D. "Dooley" Adams, Mrs. C. E. Adams' Escargot assumed the lead at the start of the 1 $\frac{3}{4}$  miles event and gamely held his advantage until the finish. The first to challenge the 5-year-old \*Hierocles-Mushroom gelding was Onedia from the Sanford Stud. Lightly rigged with 135 pounds, including Jockey Jason Eaby, Onedia held the second spot for nearly a mile, with the favorite Hyvania, and Brechin offering challenges.

After the fourth hurdle had been negotiated, Onedia gave way and C. Mahlon Kline's Brechin, with Earl Phelps up, moved to within a half-length of the front running Escargot. The latter mare was disposed of over the 8th obstacle and King Commander, last year's winner, moved into contention. Urged by Scott Riles, the L. R. Troiano color-bearer went head-and-head with Escargot over the 10th and final hurdle only to be denied a second triumph in the stake at the wire. Inches separated the pair when the photo was examined. The winner's time of 3:19 over a hard course lowered the record of 3:19 $\frac{1}{2}$ , established by Mrs. Odgen Phipps' Neji, just two weeks earlier in the meeting.

Mrs. Vernon G. Cardy's French import, Cammell Laird, which was in close quarters in the run down the backstretch, closed gamely to finish 3rd under Ramon Harris, 2 lengths behind the closely-coupled leaders. Mrs. G. H. Bostwick's Hyvania, an easy winner of an allowance test earlier in the meeting, did not display his previous form and finished 4th. The winner of two hurdle handicaps in New York sulked going postward and ran an erratic race when finally under way. Handled by Kenneth Field, the favorite was never a threat and refused to extend himself after bobbling the 8th and final fence on the backstretch. The top weight of 156 pounds was not responsible for his performance. Trainer G. H. "Pete" Bostwick, watched Hyvania's sulky trip postward and offered an opinion that the fleet hurdler probably had a bit too much racing this season. Hyvania has been postward 9 times this season, winning one turf race at Camden, S. C., and four events over hurdles.

Following the Midsummer running, Mrs. Amory L. Haskell, Jr., recent bride of the son of the president of Monmouth Park and the United Hunts, made her debut as a plate presenter in the winners' circle. Owner-trainer Mrs. C. E. Adams and her son, jockey F. D. "Dooley" Adams were the recipients of silver awards to the owner-trainer and rider of the winner.

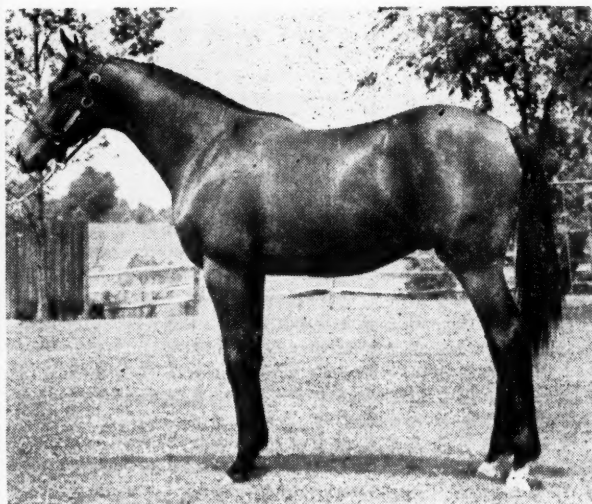

Escargot, like Extra Points, Col. L. Nelles' stakes winner, is a former member of the claiming ranks and a castoff from the F. Ambrose Clark menage. Both horses under the tutelage of Mrs. Adams have been moved to the top ranks and when Escargot scored in the Midsummer, it was his first stakes triumph and his 5th consecutive victory over the lesser obstacles.

Preceding a grand finale of the hurdle session at Monmouth Park, the final week of racing opened with the Far Hills Purse, a 1 $\frac{1}{2}$  mile test for maidens. Receiving an excellent ride from the veteran 'chase rider, John Schweitzer, the Winding Way Farm's Khumbaba found little trouble in besting Mrs. A. W. McGrath's French import, Camee, for top honors by 2 lengths. The Happy Hill Farm's Prince Regent, making his debut over hurdles, finished 3rd, about 4 lengths behind the invader from France. J. D. McCaffrey's Brimful came to grief when knocked off stride after he had jumped the 2nd hurdle. The winner's time over a hard course was 2:42½.

Six allowance horses accepted the issue on Tuesday, July 27, and Mrs. C. E. Adams' Escargot gave notice of his coming victory in the Midsummer by scoring a one length victory over Frank E. Vogel's French-bred Heureux 2nd. As usual, "Dooley" Adams was up on the winner, which negotiated the 1½ mile trip in 2:43, while Albert Foot was aboard the hurdler from his home country. George T. Weymouth's Third Copy, which had broken his maiden over hurdles earlier in the meeting, finished 3rd with Earl Phelps in the saddle.

Wednesday, July 28, was United Hunts day at Monmouth Park, with the association playing host to UHRA members and their guests. A goodly number gathered in the new Ominibus box and watched Col. L. H. Nelles' Winnie The Imp score an impressive victory in the 1½ mile hurdle test for horses which have run at hunt race meetings. Ridden by F. D. Adams, the 3-year-old gelding, assumed command soon after the break and after opening up a 12 length lead the sophomore was eased to win by 3 lengths. Mrs. M. G. Walsh's Crag was second, some 12 lengths to the good of Mrs. Wm. Coxe Wright's Little Kraut. The only casualty in the race, which brought out

8 starters, came over the 5th hurdle when John Schiff's *Livret lost Jockey Flint Schulhofer. The winner's time was 2:46 over a hard course.

Racing for a claiming price of $4,000, Irl A. Daffin's *Coit scored for his owner, who was paying an annual visit to the track from his Lititz, Pa. home, on Thursday, July 29. Ably ridden by Thomas Field, the Irish import made a show of the field of 8 starters and got under the wire seven lengths in front of the fast-closing De Saussure, owned by David R. Williams. Some 4 lengths behind, Mrs. Henry Obre's *Coup-De-Vite earned show brackets. The second score of the year for *Coit was run in 3:26½ over a hard course at 1¼ miles. Trained by J. V. H. ## New Records Established At Lexington's 1954 Keeneland Summer Sale

Records are made to be broken and the buyers at the 1954 Keeneland Summer Sale of "Selected Yearlings" (July 26-28), were really out to prove this old axiom. Not only did they establish a new American high price for a yearling at $86,000, but on the opening day of the sale, they were so eager after the "prize" stock that 3 yearlings brought prices of $50,000 and up—something that hasn't happened before in sales annals.

F. J. Adams, a newcomer to racing, acting on behalf of his syndicate of Fort Worth businessmen, made sales ring history when he outbid Allie Reuben of Hasty House Farm fame for the chestnut colt by *Nasrullah—Lurline B., by *Alibhai, at $86,000. This youngster was offered by the Walnut Springs Farm of Clifford Mooers, who two years previously sold the outstanding colt Hasty Road in the same ring.

This action on Walnut Springs *Nasrullah colt capped the enthusiasm with which buyers had greeted the yearlings by the English stallion. The other two *Nasrullah's, a colt out of another *Alibhai mare and a filly out of a Display mare, brought $40,500 and $44,500 respectively, bringing his Keeneland average to $56,833. Another feat of remarkable proportions.

While $86,000 is rather a breath-taking price for a yearling, it is still some $21,600 below the world standard of $117,600, established when the Gaekwar of Baroda bought Sayajiro out of the yearling sales in England. The previous record in this country was made in 1928 when Eastland Farms gave $75,000 for New Brook, a son of Whisk Broom II—Payment.

Mrs. John McMahan of California, heralded her first venture into yearling buying by going to $60,000 (the 2nd high of the 1954 Keeneland vendue) to outlast all others in her quest for the brother of Your Host. Originally coming east to buy 3 yearlings, Mrs. McMahan was so captivated by this son of *Alibhai—*Boudour II, out of Leslie Combs II's consignment, that she settled on only 1.

Statistic-wise, the Breeders' Sales Company sent 344 yearlings through the Keeneland Sales Ring in 5 sessions over a period of 3 days for a total money exchange of $3,414,300, an average of $9,940, to establish the highest average ever attained at a yearling sale. The former high-water mark came in 1946, when 415 yearlings commanded $4,113, 600, or $9,912 per head.

Summaries of the 5 sessions at Keeneland follow:

News From the Studs

MARYLAND General Staff

Recently on a trip to Glenangus Farms, Bel Air, we had an opportunity to see the big masculine, muscular stakes performer General Staff, who has come through his first season in excellent flesh—a tribute to his handlers. His book closed this season with 32 mares, with such noted breeders as Henry Knight's Almahurst Farm and Howard Reine-man's Crown Crest Farm from Kentucky; Mrs. Dodge Sloan's Brookmeade Farm and Mrs. Marion duPont Scott's Montpelier from Virginia; James Cox Brady's Hamilton Farms and Joseph M. Roebling's Harmony Hollow Farm in New Jersey and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Sagamore Farm from Maryland (to mention only a few) sending mares. Proof that a top stallion can draw good mares to his court from any point of the compass.

In looking at the broodmares later in the day we were amazed to find the entire lot, as far as condition and coat were concerned, could have been led into the show ring anywhere so excellent was their condition despite recent foaling, mothering the foals, and the extreme heat. The foals reflected the top condition of the mares and were all alert, but quiet to the hand. We had a chance to see the first crop by General Staff and were quite impressed with them. It was interesting to note that this big son of *Mahmoud—*Uvira II, by Umid-war stamps his get in his pattern even down to the blaze in the majority of cases. As a group they have good shoulders, are square and blocky, deep through the body, with heavy forearms, and are definitely broad across the beams. In short, they would tickle the palate of any quarter Horse man, except that they're going to have too much size to suit him. K. K.

KENTUCKY

Double for Bimelech

Two sons of Bimelech recently won stakes within three days on the East Coast.

On July 21, Wheatley Stable's 2-year-old Laugh edged the previously unbeaten Royal Coinage in the $10,000-added Albany Stakes at the Saratoga-at-Jamaica meeting.

On July 24, Ogden Phipps' 4-year-old Bassanio scored by 2½ lengths over a good field in the $50,000-added Monmouth Handicap at Monmouth Park.

Both Bimelech colts are trained by "Sunny Jim" Fitzsimmons, who celebrated his 80th birthday on July 24 by also prepping Wheatley's Full Flight (by *Ambiorix) for his victorious outing in the $25,000-added Saranac Handicap at the Saratoga-at-Jamaica meet.

Threave Main Trio

Carter Thornton's Threave Main Stud, Paris, will sell two The Doge fillies and an Olympia colt at Saratoga. One of the fillies is a half sister to the high-class Avona.

*Royal Vale to Jonabell

*Royal Vale, Mrs. J. R. H. Thouron's English-bred horse that ranks second only to Tom Fool among last season's handicappers, will enter stud next spring at John A. Bell, Jr.'s Jonabell Stables, Lexington. The 6-year-old son of Kingsway—Cora Deans, by Coronach, will fulfill his summer and fall stakes engagements before being retired from the tracks.

Bred and raced in England at two and three by Sidney Baker, *Royal Vale won the Canwick Maiden and Hambleton Stakes, Watt Memorial Plate and £1,337 as a 3-year-old. Later that season, Clive Graham bought the colt at Newmarket for 4,300 guineas.

*Royal Vale raced first in the United States over hurdles. Switched to the flat he set a new American grass record of 2:28½ in last year's Miami Beach Handicap, his first effort on a flat turf course. Later in the season, he took the Bowie, Gallant Fox, Massachusetts and Sussex Handicaps, and Foreign Bred Stakes, all over skimmed tracks. His only added-money losses in seven straight handicap efforts were to Tom Fool, by half a length in the mile Metropolitan while in receipt of three pounds, and by a head in the 1¼-mile Suburban while receiving four pounds. *Royal Vale set a Delaware Park record of 2:00 2/5 under 130 in the 1¼-mile Sussex. His American earnings amount to $237,875.

Cora Deans, *Royal Vale's dam, captured the Atalanta and Wokingham Stakes. Her only other victorious offspring have been the stakes captors Passing Glance and Sally Deans. The second dam, Jennie Deans, triumphed in nine added-money events and produced six stakes winners.

*Royal Vale's stud fee will be $2,000 live foal on a one-year contract or $1,500 live foal each season for a three-year breeding contract.

Mereworth Gets Help, Contributes $100

Mrs. Walter J. Salmon's Mereworth Farm, Lexington, received some welcome volunteer help in moving its 32 yearlings from the farm to Keeneland for the sales. Members of the Fayette County Patrol on their off-duty time of ferred to assist with traffic control at two busy intersections, as they had done in previous years when Mereworth sold at Keeneland.

In appreciation, Mereworth has contributed $100 to the Patrol Fund, used to buy equipment and to finance an annual fish fry.

Springlake-Lookout Consignment

Mrs. James Brink and Marvin Gaines, who operate their stud farms in Northern Kentucky in partnership, will sell seven yearlings at Saratoga.

Mr. Gaines' Springlake Stud Farm, Wilton, will offer colts by Admiral Lea and Flying Missel; and fillies by Broke Even, Fair Task and The Doge.

Mrs. Brink's Lookout Stud Farm, Covington, has consigned a Royal Gem II colt and a Tiger filly.

Rain

The best rain Central Kentucky has had in over a year arrived shortly before the Keeneland Sales opened, and relieved an acute drought. Pastures were greatly helped by the downpour, which ranged from two to four inches in various parts of the Blue Grass. However, some pastures may not recover from the long heat wave until real cool weather arrives.

Delta's Half Sisters

A. B. Hancock, owner of Claiborne Farm, Paris, has yearling and suckling half sisters, both by Hill Prince, to the recent Arlington Lassie Stakes winner Delta, conqueror of Lea Lane. Delta's dam, Bourtai, full sister to Strange Device and half sister to Mars Shield, was bred to Count Fleet this spring.

Claiborne Buys Nance's Ace

A. B. Hancock's Claiborne Farm, Paris, has purchased from Hilton A. Dabson the 13-year-old mare Nance's Ace, holder of the world record of 1:03½ for 5½ furlongs and winner of the Hialeah Inaugural Handicap. The producing daughter of Case Ace—Comeover, by Whisk Brook II, was bred to Slide Rule this spring; and will be mated with either Ambiorix or Nasrullah next year.

How Is Your Soil Tilth? A Great Deal Can Be Done To Improve Soil Conditions

Mayo Brown

Have you ever wondered why level land stays wet longer in the spring than it used to, or why crops suffer in mid-summer, even when rainfall is normal or what can be done to make soil dry out faster after a big rain and still store moisture for the dry days to come? There are answers to these questions; a great deal can be done to improve poor soil conditions.

Everyone knows how important lime and fertilizer is to crops. The soil should be tested to see how much lime and fertilizer the crops to be grown will need. When this has been done and the needs filled, then water and air become the limiting factors that will affect crop growth and yields. The chance of getting a maximum yield would greatly increase if it were possible to conserve most of the rain that falls during the summer season.

Plants, like people, require water, air, and food if they are to grow, and these must be gotten from the soil. If soils are very wet or have run together at the surface, air cannot get in. If this happens poisonous grasses may accumulate, plant food will not be as available and the growth and yields of plants are reduced.

If more water can be made to go into the soil, right away three problems are solved. First, the more water that enters the soil the less there is to run off and less runoff means less erosion of soil and therefore less loss of plant food. Second, if more rain that falls in July and August soaks into the soil, there will be more moisture available to plants during the unfavorable days, and third, since water and air movements are closely related, anything which causes more water to move into the soil will also cause better air circulation.

Soil tilth is very important, by tilth we refer to the physical condition of the soil. A soil in good tilth breaks up easily into particles which are porous and do not fit closely together and this allows good water and air movement in the soil. Consideration of good soil tilth is nothing new. It is known that agriculturalists hundreds of years ago said that good soil condition was necessary if the highest yields of crops were to be grown.

Cultivation over the years has changed the soil tilth. Compare soil taken from a fence row that has not been plowed for many years, with soil found under today's farming conditions. There are few virgin soils left. Those found along road banks, old fence rows and in woods are closer to real virgin soil than any we know today. These soils are porous and full of grass roots. They are high in organic matter, very crumbly and easily broken apart. By comparison the soil taken from a cultivated field is lighter in color, harder and heavier. Some cultivated soils have lost from 30-50 percent of their original organic matter and are a good deal heavier than they were originally. Of course, this does not apply to soils that have been well managed.

Land is harder to farm now. When soils of the Prairie were first broken they were loose and productive. It was high in organic matter and, as a result, the topsoil was like a sponge; it was porous. Air and water could penetrate just fast enough for good plant growth. Therefore most of the rain and snow was absorbed and there was little erosion. Most streams ran clear. As the land was cultivated the organic matter was broken down. Crops were sold from the land, and residue was often destroyed and the land laid bare for long periods. As a result the average cultivated soil in the corn belt has lost about 30 percent of its organic matter. It is the organic matter that gives soils good physical condition, and sponge-like quality. It helps to keep the soil loose and makes the soil on a whole more porous.

Poor soil management is often referred to as "hard farming". And hard farming makes the soil run together. Working the soil when it is too wet breaks down the porous particles and so does the use of heavy machinery. The soil becomes very compact and weighs twice as much as it once did. More power is necessary to plow now—more than ever before. Organic matter and grass roots would help to make soil particles porous and these would hold their forms and keep the soil from running together when soaked with water. You can test this yourself. Take some soil from an old fence row and some from a cultivated field and wet them. Notice how the soil from the fence row absorbs the water and stays porous and that from the field seals over and keeps water from entering. This sealing will cause a crust to form on the surface and this can be prevented easily. One practice is to leave a crop residue such as straw or stubble on this surface.

Soils that have been severely cropped and are now in poor tilth can be restored to a good physical condition by using more grasses and legumes in the rotation. In fact, if we maintain a good soil condition and still cultivate, the land should be kept in grasses and legumes for at least two years at a time, and four if possible. Even the best of soils should be in grasses and legumes one year out of every four.

The answer then is a farming program that includes grasses and legumes along with a high level of fertility to give good strong growth. Grasses grow mainly in the top 6 or 7 inches of soil, and legumes such as red clover and alfalfa have roots that go very deep. The fine grass roots grow all through the plow layer and push the soil particles apart. In so doing they help improve the physical condition of the soil. The legumes are necessary for supplying nitrogen and the deep roots help to open up the subsoil.

Radnor Pony Club

Celebrates First Anniversary of Organization And Sends Team to Inter-Branch Rally in Canada

Mrs. W. Penn-Gaskill Hall

June was the most important month in the life of the Radnor Hunt Branch of the United States Pony Club. Not only had we completed a year of actual organization and celebrated our first anniversary, but as a grand climax we managed to send a team to the Inter-Branch Rally of the Canadian Pony Club.

The year previous, we at Radnor had watched, with admiration, the organization and progress of the ElkrIDGE-HARFORD Branch. We had been inspired by talks about the Pony Club given by Mrs. Dean Bedford, Mrs. Arthur Hanna and Col. Howard Fair. Mrs. George K. Crozer III and I felt that Radnor would benefit by such a branch and we were determined to get one started. Aided and encouraged by Henry L. Collins, M. F. H. and many other enthusiastic horsemen and parents, our branch was formed and grew tremendously.

Mrs. Crozer, the branch chairman, and I not being real horsewomen, were rather frightened of the big job we had taken on, but our own children and those of our friends were solidly behind us and cheerfully supported every plan we made. I'd like to say here, especially for the benefit of others who are thinking of starting a branch and feel perhaps as we did, a little inadequate, if there are just a few children in the neighborhood, who love horses and if you have one or two knowledgeable horsemen about to help and advise your branch will succeed. Children will flock to you, for they love horse activities in a group and they want organization and more knowledge.

On a bitterly cold day in March our riders were given their first rating. The results due to the nasty turn of the weather were somewhat discouraging. However, it was a start. We at last seriously began to think about sending a team to Canada. The more we learned the more I felt we had to learn. Col. Fair and Mrs. Hanna watched the children whenever possible during the next two months and finally selected a "C" team and one associate.

The end of May saw the members of the team as busy as bees; school was ending, final exams had to be taken and some of our most important local shows were coming up. Ronnie Houghton 15-year-old captain took his job most seriously. He laid out the elementary "Z" Dressage course and borrowed assorted jumps. He watched his brother Eddie 12, Cristy West 9, and Joannah Hall 12, as they worked and constantly asked them horse questions. He persuaded his father to demonstrate, coach and advise.

When it was finally time to start our trip, my husband took a week off from work to accompany us and to help with the driving, as did Mr. Houghton. Arrangements were made with Mrs. Bedford to meet her group at the Niagara Falls Bridge and cross the border together. We had arrived early as we had spent the night at Niagara Falls. When we got to Sutton that day we were among the first teams to check in. The stable seemed awfully big and damp and the fair grounds enormous. It included two rings, a big infield and a race track. Next door were two large ice rinks—to the North woods, meadows and swampland stretched as far as the eye could see. It was through this beautiful land that the cross country phase was held and the invitation drag hunt laid.

The children set to work with good will and high spirits to make the stalls neat and comfortable for the horses, which were tired and stiff, having come practically non-stop from Radnor. After fixing up their tackroom, they turned to their own sleeping quarters. The girls dormitory was the skating rink and the boys were in the curling rink. The girls set up housekeeping by the Sutton Hockey Team's penalty box and unfolded their cots on the new concrete floor. This rather fascinated Penn and me. Many years ago we had been in Toronto as members of the United States Figure Skating Team competing in the North American Championships. Rinks, ice hockey and figure skating had been an important part of our lives and by coincidence the president of the Toronto Skating Club then, and Joint-M. F. H. of the Toronto and North York Hunt now, was one and the same, Clifford Sifton.

It was really wonderful to be in Canada again and associated with another type of international competition. We had known the Canadians to be great competitors, and thoughtful, kind hosts, and our little team was finding out the same thing. March Lockhart, our associate, was unable to bring her own horse and so the kindly Canadians arranged for her to borrow one from the Toronto-North York Branch. All Canadian team members cheered for March and helped her all they could in getting to know quickly her steed's likes and dislikes. All the children enjoyed so much meeting each other and exchanging ideas. There was a very friendly and sporting atmosphere throughout the rally.

I was particularly impressed by the way the judges explained what was expected before the events took place and by the discussion periods on the schedule after the events. No matter how the children placed in the competition, they learned something.

The stable, tack and turnout judging was very thorough. Regardless of how the children measured up, the stalls were clean and comfortable, the horses' coats always glistened and the tack rooms were a joy to behold, so neat, so functional & so attractive. No adults were allowed to enter the stable, except during the visiting hour. I was truly impressed by the way all the teams did their stable duty, especially our team, which had the good fortune to win the stable management prize.

The Clarks from Boston and the Hopkins from Whitford, Pa., each came up with a carload of children to observe. I wish there could have been representatives from all the branches. Everyone attending a rally for the first time seems to be greatly impressed and inspired. The emphasis is on horsemanship, an expression which seems to encompass all details of horse knowledge and care as well as riding correctly. Pony Clubs seem to bring out the best in children. While at the rally I was told that a recent British publication stated, "Among the organizations doing the most to promote the best in children were the Boy Scouts, the Girl Guides and the Pony Clubs". I know our United States Pony Club will profit by the fine example set by the English and Canadian Pony Clubs and I hope that soon we will have a rally in the U. S.

I believe the Hopkins, Houghton and the Halls learned nearly as much as the Radnor team. It was a tremendous experience for us all. The children really thrived on the discipline and the great responsibilities thrust upon them. They took complete care of their horses and themselves and quickly understood the point system and really worked together as a team. I suspect that in a few years a large number of the contestants for the Olympic try-outs will be out of the ranks of Pony Club "A" riders, as the Pony Club ladder seems to me to be a great training ground and a natural stepping stone to the great international competitions.

Junior Equitation School

There were 26 classes, starting at 9 a. m. and ending at 6 p. m. Whenever it was possible, 2 classes were run at the same time.

Little Craft, the lovely, smooth moving chestnut mare, owned by Miss Terry Yates, took the Junior Championship, closely followed by His Nibs, owned by Col. Maxwell Taylor and ridden by Miss Toni Brewer.

In the green hunter division, the tri-color went to Kia Ora, owned by Miss Barbara Batterton, and ridden by Steve Rice, after winning a three way toss with Sudan, owned by Miss Margaret Stewart, and Miss Laura Lee Shreve's Arzew, with Sudan coming in for reserve.

Being a School of Equitation, there is always much interest in the horsemanship classes held in this show. This year in the intermediate horsemanship class there were 37 entries, with 30 children entered in the intermediate jumping class. Miss Frances Kay, of Potomac, Maryland, accounted for both the blues in these classes, doing a fine job of riding on her chestnut pony, Dono.

In the advanced horsemanship, Miss Toni Brewer led the field in the Henry Bergh Medal Class, with Miss Alison Duffey pinned 1st in the V. H. S. A. This year four challenge bowl classes were added to the show, and competition among the junior riders was especially keen after seeing the lovely silver bowls and trays which they hoped to have adorning their trophy shelves for the next year.

Miss Laura Lee and Ken Shreve's entry, Thumbs Up, took home the blue ribbon in the large Pony hunting attire class. The challenge trophy in this class was a handsome silver tray given by Miss Elliott McElhenny, in the name of her chestnut mare, Briar Bey, retired last summer after an injury, after many successful years in the show ring.

In the small division it was a close battle to the very last class between two owner-rider combinations. Price McIntosh aboard Waverly's Johnny Cake came out on top after winning the open hunter and working classes and placing several other times. Behind by only ½ point were Cathleen Noland and her good little mare, Snow Flurry. Price and Johnny Cake also accounted for the reserve small jumper award to Grover Vandevender's honest roan Strawberry Sundae, ridden by young Miss Mary Scott Blake.

Boginod Farms took home both large division tri-colors. Miss Teddy Kay rode her good jumping black gelding, Mischief Maker to the large jumper award. Miss Betty Beamon, up from Hampton, rode her pinto gelding, Pretty Boy to reserve. Boginod's Downwind repeated her Culpeper victory and claimed the large championship. The attractive mare also won the Belle of Wales Memorial for the best potential broodmare shown throughout the show. For the second week in a

HORSE SHOWS

Culpeper

Two owners had a big show of it, each having a piece of two championships. Dr. Alvin I. Kay's steady grey mare, Downwind, got a 1st, 2nd, 3rd, and a 4th for the large pony award. Miss Berkeley Jennings rode Mrs. Gibson Gardner's March King to the reserve spot. Dr. Kay's Ripple Boy sewed up the conformation division and Shawnee Farm's War Blossom was runner-up.

Waverly Farm's good jumping grey gelding, Silver Foot, with Miss Molly McIntosh up, took home the green hunter tri-color after winning the open green and stake classes. Miss Frances Newbill rode R. S. Reynolds, Jr.'s Sceptre's Star to reserve in this division.

Miss Cathleen Noland and her bold fencing little chestnut mare, Flurry, walked off with small pony honors while Waverly's Johnny Cake came in for reserve.

In the working hunter division the Gardner-Hallman's Sky's Impression came out on top, being ridden throughout the show by Mrs. Hallman. Mrs. R. H. Dulaney Randolph rode her excellent performing Frank Thomas to reserve.

Andrew Bartenstein's Dutch Treat, Miss Beverly Harrison aboard, accounted for three of the five junior classes and the championship. Up from Atlanta, Ga. Miss H. M. Smith rode her Your Beau to two blues and the reserve.

The honest little chestnut mare, Spinning Time, ridden by her owner Miss Jacquelyn Vial, continued her winning ways to go jumper champion. Gary Gardner rode his Tania to a close reserve.

This year a new feature was added, a three-day event, including a schooling, endurance and stadium jumping test. The eventual winner on cumulative points, although he actually won no phase, was Oliver Durant II's Trafalgar, Russell Walther, Jr. in the saddle.

Cracker, owned and ridden by Miss Margaret McGinn, took home another championship ribbon in the children's classes. Hill Billy, owned by Miss Frankie Glover but ridden throughout the show by young Miss Margaret Thornton was reserve.

In the open jumping classes the ribbons were well distributed. Pop Over, owned by Carl Creswell and ridden by Ed Millinger, won two blues and ribbons in enough other classes to take home the championship, with Cassadol, owned and ridden by Miss Phyllis Lose, in for reserve. The open classes always fill well at this show and the competition is keen.

The hunter division was extremely well-contested. Miss Betts Nashem's Honeybrook was the eventual champion. However, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jansen's G. Junior also took his share of the ribbons, including the reserve award.

Horses owned by Mr. and Mrs. Leon Haymond dominated both the jumper and green hunter division. Tourists Encore, a beautiful chestnut gelding won all three green classes to be the undisputed champion, while Andante captured the jumper championship.

Ribbons were well spread in the horsemanship division, with no rider receiving more than one blue. Ronnie Martini was pinned champion with Miss Joanna Billings reserve. Raymond Walsh captured his second medal, while Jimmie Lee qualified for the Macley finals.

Miss Lane Billings' little grey, Holiday was the champion pony of the show. He is undefeated in his division this year and has met all of the hunter ponies in this section of the country.

Rolling Rock Hunt Horse and Breeders

Twenty-eight classes were planned for the day and a half schedule and they were run off smoothly with no time wasted but without the feeling of rush. With over a hundred horses entered, all divisions were well filled.

The green hunter championship went to two gray fillies, W. Hanley's Tillery's Spree and Mrs. Henry J. Stringer's Gray Horizon. It was Tillery Spree's second championship in a month and when she won the green hunter class it was her twelfth consecutive blue ribbon under saddle.

Mrs. Simon T. Patterson's Gerald's Aide, under Mrs. Sherwood Martin, retired the Huntland Downs Challenge Trophy. It was Mrs. Patterson's third consecutive win, Bond Drive taking it in 1953 and Gerald's Aide in 1952. The cup was filled with cheer and a toast was drunk to Gerald's Aide and his owner for a job well done. Mrs. Martin and Gerald's Aide went on to take the championship.

The entry of Mrs. Leonard Bughman and her daughter Pamela in the parent and child class was one of the most colorful. This 10-year-old miss and her mother were turned out in immaculate side-saddle habit and suitable mounts.

The Rolling Rock Hunt retired the Hunting Hill Challenge Cup for hunt teams with their team of Miss Daneen Lenehan on Red Chester, W. Hanley on Villa Verde and P. S. Oliver on Senator.

How we Shape Nature to fit Your Needs

Nothing in modern science can yet beat Nature at creating the basic energy-giving, body-building nutritional elements. But there is a real art and science to making these elements more useful to your dog.

So, in making Gaines, we start with the best ingredients Nature can provide . . . and use all our skill to make them into a food that's balanced, digestible, tasty, thrifty and easy to feed.

You can feed Gaines with confidence, not because we have some magic way of creating nourishment in a test tube, but because of our skill at doing three things exceptionally well. Those three things are: 1) Putting together the best of Nature's ingredients so that they add up to completely balanced nourishment; 2) Combining the ingredients by a unique Gaines process into a form that's easier for you to use and that's assimilated better by your dogs; and 3) Keeping a careful scientific check, through our laboratories and research kennels, on every step we take in every day's production of Gaines Meal.

Try today's Homogenized Gaines, if you haven't, and we think you'll soon see what we mean.

Valley Hunt Club

The committee really went all-out in their courses for the hunter classes of this show. The courses were well viewed by the spectators and a good test for all types of hunters; they were varied with interest and the fences well spaced.

There was a thirty degree drop in temperature from the Saturday sessions to Sunday afternoon; which sent everyone for coats and blankets. The judge at one point was wrapped in a lovely black wool shawl.

The jumper division was poorly represented but the hunter classes were filled and championships well vied for. Mrs. Jean Porter rode Ted Ralston's Chaptown throughout the show to top Miss Catherine Bromley who rode her Flying Flag which she bred, raised and broke herself. Dan Lenehan on W. Hanley's Tillery's Spree and Jack Frohm on his Right Royal were two points apart up to the stake class when Tillery's Spree had a top performance.

The green conformation was a family affair as Miss Daneen Lenehan on W. Hanley's Red Chester topped her father by half a point. This is Red Chester's second consecutive year for this win.

The working hunter championship was Little Trip's all the way, Ed. Daniels doing the riding. Young Ken Burk, riding his Glider, came through to win the stake class and the reserve.

Ivory Rangers Defeat Milwaukee Polo Club By a Score of 18-8

Art Hagan

The Ivory Rangers continued their sizzling unbeaten pace by overpowering the Milwaukee Polo Club, 16-8, on the grass field at the Ivory Polo Grounds Sunday, July 18, for their seventh straight win.

Milwaukee, rated at 21 goals, played the Rangers to a 3-3 stalemate for the first two chukkers. But the Rangers exploded for five goals in the third period and that was the ball game.

Most of the drama of the encounter was packed into the tingling opening chukkers. George Oliver passed to Pedro Silvero for the first goal in a minute and 25 seconds. Just after the six-minute mark, Oliver made it 2-0 by lofting in a 60-yard safety shot from an angle.

Then Lew Smith took matters into his own hands. The Ranger ace scored twice in less than a minute to tie the score as the first chukker ended.

In the first 45 seconds of the second chukker, Allan Scherer passed to Silvero who made good on a difficult nearside cut shot. That was the last time Milwaukee led. Soon afterward Johnny Ryan stole the ball and blasted in the tying goal.

In the third chukker Smith and Fred Lutzow each counted twice and Capt. Jack Ivory scored once to give the Rangers an 8-3 edge at the half.

Milwaukee suffered a severe loss in the fourth chukker when Silvero was thrown heavily in a collision. He was unable to continue. Roy Pulver replaced him in the Milwaukee lineup.

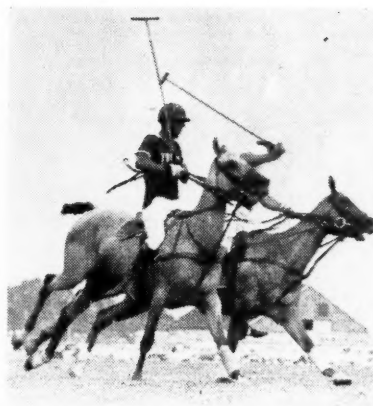

Smith was high for the game with seven goals, followed by Lutzow with five. Ivory and Ryan had two goals apiece for the winners. Scherer led the losers with three goals. Oliver and Silvero had two each while Capt. Bob Uihlein got one.

The Ivory Rangers made their first start of the year on the indoor field a winning one as they defeated the Pontiac Chiefs, 8-4, at the Ivory Arena Wednesday night, July 14.

The Rangers really settled this one with a rapid-fire attack in the last 90 seconds of the first chukker. Capt. Roy Pulver of the Chiefs scored first in 35 seconds. Jack Stefani matched that for the Rangers just 35 seconds later.

Stefani counted again five minutes later on a close-in shot. Then Mike Wacker registered on a lone foray, dribbling the ball along the boards and hitting the target on an angle drive in six and a half minutes of the chukker. Stefani tallied again 15 seconds later on a tough backhand shot.

The Rangers were never in difficulty

Some fast action in the Ivory Rangers and Milwaukee Polo Club game. Fred Lutzow of the Rangers (dark shirt) and George Oliver of the Milwaukee team.

after that. The score at the half was 5-1.

Stefani and Wacker each counted four goals for the Rangers. Pulver made two and Fred Lutzow and Rich Gibson one apiece for the losers.

Capt. Jack Ivory of the Rangers played a great game at back. He repeatedly broke up the Pontiac offensive and his long passes kept the play in Pontiac territory most of the evening.

In the opening game the Birmingham Ramblers turned back Franklin Hills, 7-6. Gordon Miller, for Birmingham, and Wendell Smith, for Franklin Hills, each scored three goals.

West Hills Blanks Brookville, 2 to 0 Old Westbury Wins

Bill Briordy

Stephen (Laddie) Sanford's goal in the final period enabled the Old Westbury poloists to turn back Jericho, 5 to 4, in the weekly high goal match at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, L. I., Sunday afternoon, July 25.

Sanford, Alan Corey and Billy Whitehead teamed up to give Old Westbury the advantage, 4-2, during the first four chukkers. But George C. Sherman Jr. and Phil Iglehart came through with two excellent shots in the fifth session to even matters.

The score was tied at half-time, 2-all. Charles R. Leonard Jr. rode with Sanford, Corey and Whitehead, while Sherman and Iglehart had Frank Fox and Bill Stoothoff as their teammates.

At the Blind Brook Polo Club, Purchase, N. Y., Ted James and Randy Crawford counted four times apiece as Philadelphia took the measure of Blind Brook, 11-4.

Two handicap markers and three goals on their own hook provided the Philadelphia with enough for the margin of victory before the first half came to a close.

At Bethpage, L. I., Walter Scanlon paced the attack with three goals to help the Bethpage Polo Club to a 7-3 triumph over Wheatley Hills in the first match of a double-header. In the second match, West Hills blanked Brookville, 2-0. Vincent Rizzo made the game's only tallies in the fourth chukker.

On July 22 at Meadow Brook, Devereux Milburn's goal in the last period enabled Meadow Brook to top Blind Brook, 6-5, in the semi-final round of the annual Hempstead Cups 12-goal tournament. Brandywine also reached the last round with a 5-3 success over Farmington.

Farmington Noses Out Berkshire Poloists For Ninth Victory

Ann Braun

Farmington veteran Barclay Robinson saved the day for the second time this season, breaking a last period tie seconds after the final bell to defeat the Berkshire poloists 7-6 on July 18 at Farmington.

The visitors tallied two quick goals at the beginning and led all the way. They were ahead 5-4 going into the final chukker when Farmington caught fire. A goal by Al Marenholz, his fifth straight, tied it up at 5-5, but Herb Pennell, at pivot for Berkshire, countered with his fourth score of the game to give the lead again to his team. Frank Butterworth then tallied his only goal of the game to tie it up with a few minutes left to play. With both teams battling for the clincher, Robinson picked up a loose ball near his goal, and as the final gong sounded knocked it in from twenty yards out.

The victory was Farmington's ninth of the season against one loss. Hard-hitting Al Marenholz increased his season total to forty-three goals in ten games, as he again led both teams in scoring with five goals. Herb Pennell was close behind with four.

Racing Review

jected was the hero of the Sunset, but he didn't get the money. Under 128 pounds, he closed with a gallant rush, to fail by a nose.

Calumet's Fleet Bird, with Ralph Neves making up most of his 115 pounds weight assignment, was first to the wire. The race provided a sensational closing feature for Hollywood's meeting. The time, 2:40 4/5, equaled the Hollywood mark of 1 3/8 miles.

Correspondent, as was expected, went to the front. Trusting and Last Round went along with him for the first lap. The latter began to lose interest as they passed the starting gate, but Trusting continued on well.

Fleet Bird and Rejected lagged back for the first half mile; then began to move up. Swinging around the final bend, Fleet Bird passed Correspondent and appeared ready to draw away, but Rejected was only two lengths behind him and coming well. The winner's margin was shaved down rapidly, but not erased.

Six Fifteen also closed fast to get third money. He was a length and a quarter back of the top pair and 2 1/2 before Trusting.

Fleet Bird, a five-year-old horse by Bull Lea—Birdlea, by Blue Larkspur, added $63,200 to his earnings, which puts him at $93,050 for 1954. It was his first win this year. He has been second twice and third once.

He brought in $167,275 last season with 5 wins, 4 seconds and 5 thirds in 16 starts. He won the Argonaut and Golden Gate Handicaps, and finished second in the Maturity, Hollywood Gold Cup and Del Mar Handicap. Home first in the Golden Gate Mile, he was disqualified and placed third.

Fleet Bird is a Calumet-bred and is trained by H. A. "Jimmy" Jones.

Detroit Race Course

Frontier Handicap, 39th running, 1 1/4 miles, 3-year-olds and up (July 24). It was difficult for the fans to make a choice in the Frontier; the favored G & G Stable entry started at 2.50 to 1 and the "longshot" Second Ave went at 6.70.

Andros was held at 2.60 to 1 Gulf Stream at 2.70.

My Fault, a member of the entry and the only three-year-old in the field of six, showed the most early speed and was two lengths in front when he had gone three-quarters of a mile. Andros, Second Avenue and Money Broker were most prominent as contenders. Gulf Stream was running last.

At the quarter pole, My Fault still was first and Gulf Stream last, but they were beginning to get together.

With an eighth of a mile to go, it was My Fault by a head, Money Broker, by a head, Marked Game by half a length and Gulf Stream.

Fatigue overcame My Fault in the rush to the wire and four horses whizzed past him. Gulf Stream whizzed fastest and was four lengths the best at the end. He clipped 1 3/5 seconds off the Detroit record, with a remarkable 2:02 3/5.

Marked Game was second, a length and a half better than Money Broker, Second Avenue was another half-length back in fourth place.

Gulf Stream, a four-year-old colt by Wait A Bit, from the Equistone mare, Lapis Lazuli, collected $10,840 for his fine performance. That gives him $23,195 for 1954. He has won 2 of his 17 races and been third 6 times. He won the Wolverine Handicap at Detroit in June.

In 1953, Gulf Stream raced 39 times, winning 9 events, running second in 3 and third in 10. He earned $40,865.

His stakes victories were in the Ed McCuan and Labor Day Handicaps, both at Hazel Park.

R. A. Parachek owns the colt and W. J. Marlman trains him. Harold Keene has ridden him in both stakes wins this season.

F. M. Warburg is the breeder of Gulf Stream.

Randall Park

Miss Cleveland Stakes, 3rd running, 5 furlongs, 2-year-old fillies (July 24). C. B. Fischbach's Fussy Lady scored a front-running win in the Miss Cleveland and set a new track record of 58 3/5 seconds for five furlongs. Top Fair, a member of the favored Lane entry was second, a head in front of Beta Ray, which beat Mig Alley by 2 1/2 lengths.

Fussy Lady was making her eighth start and scoring her third win. She has been second twice and third twice. The prize of $4035 brings her earnings to $8420.

The filly, by Eternal Bull—Flags Away, by American Flag, was bred by Mr. Allen T. Simmons. M. M. Greene trains for Mr. Fischbach. R. Ussery had the mount.

River Downs

River Downs Championship, 1 1/8 miles, 4-year-olds and up (July 24). Skipper Bill took the $20,000 Championship on closing day at River Downs. His time of 1:42 1/2 was a record for 1 1/8 miles at the track.

Timely Tip finished second and Go A Bit third.

Back Again

Last season's luckiest buyers whose purchases were good enough to win a jewel of the triple crown, were back at the Keeneland ringside and were again seen in action this year.

Andrew J. Crevelin, who pulled Determine out of the '52 sales ring, was top bidder on 8 and under-bidder on Determine's half-brother by Revoked. Crevelin's 8 cost him $81,900 and numbered colts by Citation, *Ardan, *Ambiorix, Third Degree, Fighting Step, and Alorfer, and fillies by Shut Out and Spy Song. The top priced of his lot was the Citation colt out of the *Mahmoud mare, Amiga at $36,000.

Hasty House Farm who plucked as ripe a plum as Hasty Road out of the Keeneland "pie" came away from this year's set-to with 4, for $46,400. The colts are by Reaping Reward, and *Royal Gem II and the fillies by *Ardan and Errard. They were also the under-bidder on the American high-priced sales yearling.

The King Ranch establishment of the Kleberg's took High Gun from the '52 vendue and this year's yearlings were bought in the name of King Ranch, Helen C. Kleberg and R. J. Kleberg, Jr. King Ranch, proper, took a liking to the bay colt by *Noor—Baize, by Case Ace and went to $40,500 to prove it. R. J. Kleberg, Jr. bought an *Shannon II colt for $16,000, while Helen C. Kleberg bought 3 for $63,500—2 colts, a Citation and a Phalanx, and an English filly by Tehran.

"First Outing"

Mrs. John McMahan, who bought her first racing prospect for $60,000 at Keeneland, the full brother to Your Host, is the widow of furniture store magnate, John McMahan of southern California. Mrs. McMahan owns a ranch near Camarillo, California, and although she has two broodmares there, this son of *Alibhai—*Boudour II is her first in the racing field.

Steady Customers

You might possibly think that anyone who bought an $86,000 sales yearling would probably not be interested in buying more than one. This was the case with the Adams Syndicate which bought the top priced one, but they did buy 3 others at a slightly lesser fee. Their 3 purchases totaled $34,500 and included a chestnut colt by Hawley, a brown colt by Bimelech and a chestnut colt by *Princequillo. These yearlings also came from the Clifford Mooers' Walnut Hall consignment, which brings the total amount of money which the Fort Worth, Texas businessmen spent with the Kentuckian to $120,500.

Bassanio (#7) a 4-year-old bay son of Bimelech—Portia, by *Rhodes Scholar, winning the Monmouth 'Cap, for his owner breeder, Ogden Phipps. The place horse was Closed Door.

Large Buyer

One of the largest buyers at the Keeneland sales was Col. H. B. Marcus, who maintains Glade Valley Farm (formerly owned by W. L. Brann), near Frederick, Maryland where he stands the good speedster, The Pincher.

Col. Marcus dipped into the sales and took out 9 yearlings, 6 fillies and 3 colts. The fillies represent the sires Pavot, Amphitheatre, War Jeep, Some Chance, Johns Joy, and I Will while two of the colts are by *Fast and Fair (which once held court at Glade Valley), and the other is by Bimelech.

Two for Thirty-Two

Joseph Gavegnano, owner of Errard King, who was considered just about at the top of the 3-year-old "heap", at least until he was slapped in the face by Punkin Vine in the Choice Stakes, got into the bidding game and came away with 2 youngsters. Mr. Gavegnano bought an *Heliopolis colt for $22,000 and a Mighty Story colt for $10,000.

Errard King was a $7,600 Keeneland sales purchase of 1952.

Prospective Matrons?

The Cain Hoy Stable of Harry Guggenheim has had rare fortune in buying yearlings at Keeneland. From the famed sales ring, where he secured (among other horses), *Turn-to, winner of the rich Garden State; Dark Star, winner of the '53 Derby; Mr. Guggenheim bought 2, both fillies. From Charlton Clay he got a Menow filly from the female line of Bull Lea, for $15,000 and from Leslie Combs took an *Alibhai chestnut from the Myrtlewood dynasty for $13,500.

With decent race records to round out their credentials, these fillies may in time be worthy of breeding to the Cain Hoy stallions, newly retired *Turn-to and Dark Star.

New Sires On The Horizon?

Bull Lea has long held the stallion spotlight on Calumet Farm, but the Keeneland Sales introduced the get of three of their young stallions to the racing public who may help him hold that attention.

Citation, the greatest of the Bull Leas and the world's leading money winner, was represented by 6 yearlings at Keeneland. The four colts and two fillies sold for $150,700, an average of over $25,000 apiece. The prices ranged from $50,000 for the royally bred colt out of the 5 times stakes producing Man o'War mare Boat bought by the Arnold Hanger Syndicate, down to $8,200 for a bay filly out of a sister to Count Fleet, which Elmen-dorf bought.

Coaltown, somewhat hidden by Citation's brilliance on the race course, now meets his old adversary on new grounds—and who's to say he won't best his rival. At Keeneland Coaltown was represented by 1 filly, a half-sister to the stakes winner Dark Jungle, which brought $11,000 from W. W. Naylor.

Ponder, another "Calumite", was the sire of a bay colt out of a half-sister to the stakes winner and producer Chuckle, which caused Sunny Blue Farm to go to $7,800 to outlast the competition.

SEVENTY YEAR'S AGILITY

Robert Sterling Clark, breeder and owner of Never Say Die, winner of this year's Epsom Derby, was among those attending the recent Keeneland sales. On the afternoon of Thursday, July 29th, during the dispersal sale of the Woodvale broodmares, he sat in the front row along the exit ramp of the sales ring. When a startled mare ran backwards and fell across the ramp with her hind legs practically in the seats, Mr. Clark, in spite of his 70 odd years, displayed considerably more agility than anyone else involved and was about 30 feet away by the time the mare hit the ground.

GODFREY AT KEENELAND

Arthur Godfrey, who has made the American housewife thoroughly familiar with inflammation of the periosteum of the equine foreleg (bucked shins to you), appeared with his trainer Morris Dixon Sr. on Thursday afternoon July 29th at the Keeneland Sales pavilion when the Woodvale broodmares were being sold. Although they followed the bidding with great attention, no radio or television proceeds seem to have been left behind.

STILL RIDING

Miss Shirley Thomas overcame the pain of three cracked ribs to continue riding in England and Ireland with Canada's team. From all reports she, with Revlon's Princess Midas and Revlon's White Sable, are outstanding performers on the team.

MONMOUTH MOMENTS

The second week of Monmouth Park's hurdle session was climaxed with a cocktail party given by the Allison Sterns at their Festoon Farm in Scobeyville. The interlude from racing was most popular and practically all of Monmouth's hurdle fraternity were present to enjoy a well-laden table and liquid refreshments. It was set in a beautiful garden with the bartenders sporting Allison Stern's popular blue and white silks with green cuffs. The color motif was carried to the floral and table decorations. . . . Amory L. Haskell, president of Monmouth Park and the United Hunts, usually leads off in the vocal department. However, he was a tardy arrival and Ed Brennan, Monmouth's general manager, made like Perry Como . . . Movie star Jane Wyman was present, but did not offer Ed Brennan any competition . . . Chris Wood, Jr. was busy with his entry blanks and with nearly all of the hurdle trainers present, he filled his next hurdle race with 14 entries . . . "Tootie" Wetherill was receiving condolence on Knocks Twice breaking down and congratulations on her purchase of Jet Command, a 4-year-old hurdler of great promise . . . The Junior Dixons and Cushmans have taken an ocean front apartment in Sea Bright where they frolic with their youngsters on the beach, when not busy with racing chores . . . Many of the hurdle fraternity are planning to stay for the famous Monmouth Park Charity Ball and Carnival, which will be held in the clubhouse on Saturday, July 31 . . . The Vernon G. Cardys flew down from their home in Ste. Marguerite, P. Q., Canada to see Mrs. Cardy's French import, *Cammell Laird, run second in the Scobeyville. They planed back after the race but will return for the Midsummer Hurdle Handicap on Friday, July 30.

ONE WILD OAT

Last year the London Hunt Branch of the Pony Club won the Branch Display at the annual Canadian Inter Branch Pony Club Rally. Their display was a very well done square dance on horses. The challenge trophy they won was a handsome shield. Determined to get it back again, the branch members got together and with the help of Mrs. W. H. Hall-Holland, developed a pantomime titled "One Wild Oat". Their efforts again won the trophy hands down.

To the strains of the wedding march, the bridal party assembled—the groom horse with his best man and ushers looked very amusing with bowlers and red beards. The bridesmaids were quite charming with daisies in their foretops and the bride was beautiful as she minced down the aisle in a lace veil. The minister horse, with a white collar, read the service appropriately worded with references to double harness, etc. At the crucial moment, the "One Wild Oat" appeared in the form of a galloping Shetland wearing a baby's bonnet. The wedding party broke up.

LEESIDE FARMS

Leeside Farms of Hubert Stein (Montreal and Ste Adele) has purchased Sun Hazard and Full of War from Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cardy. Along with their hunters and jumpers, Leeside Farms appears to be getting quite a string of Thoroughbreds.

REMAINS IN BREEDING GAME

The Estate of Samuel D. Riddle, of Man o' War and War Admiral fame, is apparently going to stay in the breeding business, rather than winding up its affairs. At the Woodvale dispersal sale Olin Gentry, bidding for the Estate, purchased 3 of the most desirable lots, the young stakes winner Boot All for $16,500; the stakes producer Sweet Tryst with a bay colt by Our Boots for $18,500; and the Walter Chrysler-bred stakes winner Caltha with a bay colt by Bimelech and in foal to *Ardan for $24,000. As the hammer fell on the last lot the editor of one of our principal Thoroughbred publications was heard to remark approvingly: "That's more than Sam Riddle ever paid for any 5 mares."

PROUD PONY PARENTS—

Fox Hollow Stable's Sylvia's Comet and Snowstorm were very proud of their offspring Saturday after the Farmington Junior Show and Maryland Pony Show.

Their eldest son and daughter, Waverly's 2-year-old Storm Warning and Miss Cathleen Noland's 3-year-old Snow Flurry were reserve pony hunter champions in the large and small pony divisions respectively. At the same time in Timonium, Maryland, their yearling son, Storm Peak, was winning the medium model hunter ponies and later went on to be grand champion cross-bred of the breeding division. Their 3-year-old filly, Snow Dancer, won the filly foal class and coupled with her outstanding yearling brother to win the produce of dam class. Both the yearling and foal belong to Fox Hollow.

Not to be outdone by the cross-breeds, Fox Hollow's Little Dipper, a registered Welsh filly by Whitehall Moving Star—Windholme Sylvia, which is a full sister to Sylvia's Comet, won the small model pony hunters and went on to be pinned grand champion Welsh mare of the show.

While all this was going on Snowstorm remained discreetly in her stall at Timonium to look after her youngest daughter, she never having been considered good enough to place in a broodmare class.

ATTEND WOODVALE DISPERSAL

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Morris of New York, close friends of the late Mr. and Mrs. Royce Martin, flew down on July 28 to attend the Woodvale dispersal at Keeneland the following day. They bought the first yearling offered, a bay colt by Haltal—After All, brother and half brother to the stakes winners Halt and Boot All for $9,000; the stakes winning mare Halsgal for $14,500; and the stakes winner and producer Jessie Gladys with a colt foal by Haltal for $15,500. Mr. Morris is President of the Thoroughbred Racing Associations and of the Metropolitan Jockey Club (Jamaica) as well as serving as Secretary-Treasurer of the Saratoga Association. His all scarlet colors are among the oldest in this country, having been registered by his great grandfather Francis Morris, who maintained a stud at Throg's Neck, now almost within the limits of New York City. Here, from 1866 to 1878 he stood *American Eclipse, founder of the Domino line.

WORKING HUNTER DIVISION

Located in an area devoted more to saddle horses and jumper activity than for hunters the Eastern States Amateur Horse Show at Springfield, Mass. has not carded a hunter division prior to this year. Feeling that the demand was now sufficient to warrant an addition, the committee has added a complete working hunter division to its prize list.

Race and Brood Mare Damaged Goods Painted By Jean Bowman

Our cover this week depicts Jean Bowman's study of the broodmare, Damaged Goods, painted at Kentmere Farm, Boyce, Virginia.

After a rather hazardous early life (she just escaped being burned to death in a stable fire and indeed was scared so badly that she couldn't be offered when Claiborne sold their consignment), Damaged Goods was sold privately to E. B. Benjamin in whose colors she won two of America's top filly races, the Acorn Stakes and the Coaching Club American Oaks. At stud the dark bay daughter of Jacopo out of the Chatterton mare Perjury, has proven just as good as when racing. She has produced the good stakes winning filly Case Goods and 4 other winners, all her foals to start to date—making her a 100% producer.

Damaged Good's daughter Case Goods (as her name implies) is by Case Ace and was sold in Kentmere Farm's Saratoga Sales consignment of 1952 to William G. Loew for $15,500. At 2 she was a winner of the Astoria, Jeanne d'Arc and New Jersey Breeders Stakes, as well as placing in 3 other stakes events. She was rated at 112 pounds on John Campbell's Experimental Free Handicap of 1953—fourth high-weight among the fillies.

Kentmere Farm has had hard luck with Damaged Goods the past two seasons. In 1953 she had a nice Sun Again filly which was doing well, and when turned out one morning was fine, only to be found a short time later dead. Then Damaged Goods failed to get in foal, so that another year was lost. This spring however she was sent to the court of Case Ace, in the hopes of getting another Case Goods, and is now in foal.

PRESENTED TO HUNTSMAN GEORGE BARKER

At the end of the last hunting season, George Barker had completed 25 years as Huntsman of the Quorn Hounds, one of the most famous packs of fox hounds in the world. The hunt country of this pack is mostly in Leicestershire, and is perhaps still the best country to ride over in the world.

Friends and supporters of Mr. Barker gave him a present amounting to 3,000 pounds, to mark the occasion. The subscription list was lodged at the Leicester Branch of the Westminster Bank, and just before the presentation was due to be made the bank officials realized that it would be rather dull to allow the gift to be made with the aid of the usual check form. Rather at the last minute therefore, the aid of a local artist was invoked to illuminate a check.

George Barker is still very active and a fine horseman, and his retirement is not at present contemplated. During the mastership of Sir Harold Nutting, 1930-1940, George Barker hunted the Quorn Hounds four days a week for three successive seasons without having a fall. Since Barker has always gone in the front rank over Leicestershire, this is a remarkable tribute both to his horsemanship and to the quality of the horses provided by Sir Harold Nutting in the pre-war era.
